President's Corner November 2013

I'm happy to report that we now have one hundred and twenty one members and that all classes are being well attended. The new Thursday night social class has been growing as more and more dancers try it out and we have had as many as three sets on the floor including five of our newest dancers. I would like to welcome new members, Jan Beckett, Adrienne Gnidec, Gulcan Barclay, Jane King, Chris Beckett, Janet Mather, Olivia Caster, Alison Brown, and (returning members) Gloria Gillingham, and Margaret and Duncan Robertson. I also recently attended the Wednesday afternoon social class and enjoyed meeting Joan Bushe who joined us late in the season last year. We are very pleased that many of the new members from last year's basic class are back for another year of fun and laughter as they strive to master new moves, steps and dances.

There was a warm glow and lots of happy chatter as over sixty dancers came together on October 19th for the Harvest Social. It was a lovely program prepared and led by Joan Axford. No one lost their head in Posties Jig and after a slow start Autumn in Appin was beautifully danced. Many thanks to the Intermediate class who hosted the dance and provided a diverse array of tasty treats. Mark your calendars for the St Andrews social on November 16th and for the Christmas social on December 14th. They will be taking place at the recently renamed City Light Church of Victoria, 550 Obed Avenue. (formerly called the Victoria Full Gospel Fellowship church).

Three special dances are in the planning stages starting with the New Year's Social on December 31st, followed by the Dance Days Ceilidh on February 1st 2014 and the Workshop and Social on Saturday March 29th 2014.

Our winter Open House will be held on January 7, 2014 at the City Light Church Hall (formerly Victoria Full Gospel Fellowship Hall) on Obed Avenue, from 7:30 to 9:30 pm. Bring your friends, neighbours, relatives – anyone who might be interested in trying Scottish Country Dancing. There will be no charge for the evening. Refreshments will be served.

Vancouver Island Scottish Country Dance Society 2013-2014 Classes

All classes (except the afternoon class) run from 7:30 to 9:30 pm

Dancers should consult with their current teacher before moving to a more advanced class. All dancers are encouraged to dance in other classes below their level as this helps less experienced dancers progress faster and makes the classes more enjoyable.

A Note from Lorraine

Dear Dancing Friends, Thank you for the Benefit Dance, it was a great program and we did get through all the dances. Thank you to Pat Blair for the organizing and the program, to all teachers, to Sheila and her kitchen helpers, Michelle Campbell for the flowers, Ian Sutherland for taking tickets, Dora for the publicity, to Penny and Ed for sharing such a beautiful cake and to all who contributed and attended. Also thank you to several dancers who have contacted me and were unable to attend. Once again proceeds will go to goats and school fees for needy children, mainly orphans.

Happy Dancing! With best wishes,

Lorraine

In Memoriam

Long time local dancers will be saddened to learn of the recent passing of Kay MacIntyre. Kay and her husband Charles danced with and taught for RSCDS Victoria Branch in the 1980's and early 1990's, before moving to Parksville. Kay was particularly patient with basic dancers, encouraging them to dance their best and giving them the love of the dance. While she and Charles were not members of Van Isle, many long-time Van Isle members will remember her.

We send our sincere condolences to Charles and their family.

September Open House

The VISCDS Open House at the City Light Church hall on Sept 3rd started off the new 2013/2014 season with a Full house. 76 dancers were in attendance. There were 28 guests eager to try out Scottish Country Dancing along with 48 of our members to help guide them through the basic steps and dances.

Gordon Robinson started out the evening by walking the Loch Ness Monster and then proceeded to teach a few of the basic dance steps. After the Ferryboat, it was clear these dancers were catching on quickly and we moved on to the Red Nose Jig and everyone's favourite The Barmkin. As it was a very warm night and the hall was heating up, the dancers were grateful for the two dispensers of lemonade, jugs of water and a variety of cookies to rejuvenate them. The evening continued with Jig to the Music and concluded with Borrowdale Exchange.

Thank you to Gordon Robinson for leading this huge class and for his selection of dances. It was an exhilarating evening and a great start to our year.

New Year's Dinner and Dance

If you are looking for something to do on New Year's Eve, you couldn't do better than to join your fellow dancers for an evening of fun and camaraderie as we say farewell to the old year and welcome in the new. Our second annual New Year's Potluck Dinner and Dance will be held on Tuesday, December 31 at the City Light Church Hall on Obed Avenue. Doors will open at 6:00 pm; a scrumptious potluck dinner will be served at 6:30; and dancing will start at 8:00. We will have a break around 10:00 for dessert, tea and coffee; and will sing Auld Lang Syne at 11:00. Those of us with enough stamina will continue with the social program until midnight, or 'whenever'.

The cost of this fabulous evening is $12.00 plus a potluck donation. If you wish to come to just the dance, the cost is $10.00. Non-dancing 'life partners' and friends are most welcome. All the dances on the program (above) will be walked through. We hope to see you there! Please let Dora know you are interested in coming so we can be sure of numbers.

Harvest Social 2013

This was the first of the "Socials" and was an excellent beginning to a season of lively dancing. It was hosted by the Wednesday Intermediate Class with a program prepared by Joan Axford to appeal to all levels of dancers. Joan briefed the dances and Sarah Kell took a turn as well. It was a pleasure to welcome 64 enthusiastic dancers, as well as out-of-town guests Judy and Jim Pedder from Comox and Irene and John Telfer from French Creek. Thanks to Sheila McCall for collecting admissions and to Beth Weston and Joan McIntosh for sharing 50/50 duties. The hall was colourfully decorated to reflect the Harvest theme. A special touch of Autumn was provided by two large floral arrangements in pumpkin shells, designed by Michelle Campbell. Gordon Robinson was the lucky winner of $41.50 from the 50/50 draw.

Thanks to all those who provided the ample selection of delicious food enjoyed at the break. And a special thank-you to Sheila Eaglestone for expertly co-ordinating her kitchen team, to the decorators and to the hard-working clean-up crew.....all contributing to a very successful event.

Ellen Campbell

The members of Van Isle extend sincere condolences to Joan Isaac and her family on the recent passing of their husband and father, Andy Isaac.

Joan Isaac and family would like to thank the dancers for their kind words of sympathy following the recent death of Andy Isaac. The notes inside the card meant a lot. Thank you.

Angela Goddard

(Joan's daughter and a former dancer)

Teachers Association (Canada) – TAC

If you have been dancing for very long, you may have heard your teacher refer to 'TAC'. Teachers Association (Canada), better known as 'TAC', is an outreach and support group for teachers of Scottish Country Dance. One might assume from the name that the organization is solely for Canadian teachers but that's not so – SCD teachers from all over the world are members.

In order to be a member of TAC, a dancer must be a teacher or be working towards becoming a teacher. He/she must also be a member of the Royal Scottish Country Dance Society (RSCDS). However, there are three entities attached to TAC which will be of interest to dancers who are not also teachers.

- TACTalk – TAC's newsletter, published four times a year. It contains articles of interest mainly to dance teachers, but dancers will find them interesting, too. Non-teachers may subscribe to TACTalk. The yearly subscription cost is $15.00 Cdn for the newsletter available via the Internet. A hard copy may be had for an additional $15.00 Cdn. Here is the website:
http://www.tac-rscds.org/images/stories/TACTalk_Subscription_Form_2013-2014.pdf
- TACBooks – sells books and leaflets of dance instructions. They also sell books which contain information of general interest about SCD. <http://store.tac-rscds.org>
- TACSound – sells compact discs of SCD music, both for dancing and for listening. They also sell DVD videos which are of interest to both teachers and dancers <http://sound.tac-rscds.org>

Non-teachers are welcome to purchase books and music from TACStores.

VAN ISLE DANCE & WORKSHOP Celebrating 40 years

Saturday, March 29, 2014

2014 marks the 40th anniversary of the club which we will be celebrating with our workshop and social.

The day is now planned: We are pleased to announce we will have two workshop classes, both taught by the internationally renowned and highly regarded Mary Murray. We welcome back Julie Smith as our talented class pianist. The morning is for Experienced dancers and afternoon is for Basic/Intermediate. In the evening we will be dancing to marvelous music by The Tartan Players – a quartet this year.

The program is posted and has several dances the basic dancers will have learned by March so we do hope to see many of our newer dancers at the evening social. Please encourage your out of town friends to join us and keep the date free yourselves.

We have also added a lunch option for those wishing to socialize in between classes. Hopefully many of our past members will come out to the lunch or to the social, whether they are still dancing or just wish to enjoy the music and the memories.

The venue is in Colwood which has enabled us to keep the costs down and not increase the fees. Closer to the time we will be soliciting help to distribute the load and make the day run smoothly.

All the details are on the website and in the registration brochure.

We look forward to another great workshop and dance.

Gael Forster on behalf of the organizing committee

Christmas in Scotland

In Scotland, Christmas is known as Nollaig Beag, which means “Little Christmas”. Until the Reformation of the 16th and 17th centuries, Christmas and New Year were equally welcomed by the Scots, who “passed the Christmas days with games and feasting”. Christmas was one of several holidays created as a means to make the early Christian church more acceptable to the pagans who already celebrated winter solstice festivals about that time. It was celebrated as a primarily religious festival during ancient times and it continues to remain so today. New Year was and still is the main holiday for Scots.

Christmas was celebrated in Scotland until the Protestant Reformation when the Kirk portrayed Christian feasting days, including Christmas, as Popish or Catholic feasts and thus they had to be banned. This led to the abolition of festival days and other church holidays. By 1583, Bakers who made Yulebreads were fined, although their punishment could be lessened if they gave the names of their customers! A 1640 Act of the Parliament of Scotland abolished the “Yule vacation and all observation thereof in time coming”.

While a similar ban was in effect south of the border, when the Monarchy was restored there, so were the Christmas celebrations. In Scotland, the rigid laws of the new Kirk still frowned upon Christmas celebrations.

The tradition of celebrating Christmas was banned in Scotland for nearly 400 years until the 1950’s. Until 1958, when Christmas Day was declared a public holiday, people worked normally on this day although the children did get presents. Even today, the traditional Christmas celebration is usually a low-key affair as the Church of Scotland (aka the Presbyterian Church) is not very enthusiastic about the festival. The Christmas traditions in Scotland today are similar to those of the US, although the Scottish people do have some interesting customs of their own. <http://voices.yahoo.com/scottish-christmas-history-traditions-4839050.html>.

New Year (Hogmanay) in Scotland

New Year’s Eve is celebrated around the world but nowhere else is this evening celebrated as it is in Scotland; the Scots have their own name for it: Hogmanay. There are several theories about the derivation of the word but the most likely source seems to be the French name for Christmas, “Homme est né” or “Man is born”. (Christmas and New Year in ancient times seem to have been lumped together as far as celebrations were concerned.) Historians believe that the Scots inherited the celebration from the Vikings, who paid much attention to the passing of the shortest day.

There are numerous traditions associated with the celebration of Hogmanay, which are observed to this day. One is the singing of Auld Lang Syne at midnight. The song is attributed to the Scottish poet Robert Burns, who claimed that it was based on an earlier fragment. The tune itself was in print over 80 years before he published his version in 1788. It is common to sing this in a circle of linked arms that are crossed over one another as the clock strikes midnight for New Year’s Day, though, strictly speaking, it is intended that participants link arms at the beginning of the final verse, co-ordinating with the lines of the song that contain the the lyrics to do so. Interestingly, it is only in Scotland that this is done correctly.

Another tradition is that of “first footing” (“first foot” in the house after midnight), which is still common in Scotland. To ensure good luck for the house, the first foot should be male and dark (red-heads and women aren’t nearly as lucky). This is believed to be a throwback to the Viking days when blond or red-haired strangers arriving on your doorstep meant trouble. Traditionally, your first-footing male guest should bring symbolic coal, shortbread, salt, black bun and whisky, but nowadays, whisky and shortbread are the only items still prevalent and available. (When my Mother was growing up in Winnipeg, her Scottish neighbours always had her, being dark, visit them first thing on New Year’s Day. I think they gave her a piece of shortbread. They either didn’t worry about her being a girl, or they went with whoever was available.)

The fireworks displays and torchlight processions held in many cities throughout Scotland are reminiscent of the ancient custom at Scottish Hogmanay pagan parties hundreds of years ago.

Each area in Scotland has its own way of celebrating Hogmanay. There are many websites which give details of these celebrations. One such website is <http://paganwiccan.about.com/od/yulethelongestnight/p/Hogmanay.htm>.

One Day Workshop and Dance

Saturday, March 29, 2014

REGISTRATION FORM

The Tartan Players, formed in 2005, is a Scottish Dance Band which has rapidly become a sought after group, with their lively playing and signature sound. Julie Smith (piano/bandleader) teaches music in public schools, directs choirs and plays for Scottish Country Dance ("Music is my life"). She has attended Master Workshops in Scottish country dance music. Deborah Jones (fiddle) has more than 30 years experience of Scandinavian folk fiddling and has played in the Vancouver Fiddle Orchestra since 1990 (spare time, she is a volunteer streamkeeper).

Carole Berger (flute/whistle) has augmented her BMus with the study of Traditional music at workshops in Boston, Goderich and Vancouver. She has played for Scottish & Irish dancing for over 10 years, and performs weekly at the Irish Heather Pub. Lukasz Wiczorek (fiddle) has played in the West Coast Fiddlers for almost 10 years; he teaches private violin lessons in Langley and plays viola in the Trinity Western University Orchestra.
